Items Needed: Paper with questions, Markers

Tape newsprint sheets in various spots around the room and strategically locate markers near the newsprint. Write a question at the top of each sheet of newsprint and invite people to answer the questions “graffiti style” on the sheets.

Questions might include anything pertinent to the meeting’s purpose. For a session on leading fun with children, questions might include the following:

1. When are you most playful?
2. What is your favorite game? What is it that you love about this game?
3. What is your least favorite game? What is it that you hate about this game?
4. What do you do to make the world more playful?

Refer back to questions and responses when defining your session’s purpose, wrapping up, inviting participants to take advantage of each others’ interests and talents, and so on.
