

TRUE IDENTITY

Items Needed: None

Before starting this game, make sure group members know everyone's name. The game will cement the names even more securely in their minds.

Choose one person to be "IT". Have IT hide his or her eyes. Then point to someone else and have that person say, "Hi, there. Isn't this a great meeting?" IT then tries to guess who the speaker is. If IT can't guess the first time, he or she can ask, "What do you like best about this meeting so far?" If IT guesses correctly, have everyone cheer. If IT can't guess the speaker's identity after hearing the answer, show the true identity by having IT open his or her eyes. Let the speaker then be IT. Then let a lot of people take turns being IT.
